BUT YOU COULD HAVE WON!

Kenyan runner Abel Mutai was only a few meters from the finish line but got confused with the signs and stopped thinking he had finished the race. A Spanish runner, Ivan Fernandez, was right behind him and realizing what was going on, started shouting to the Kenyan to keep running. Mutai did not know Spanish and did not understand. Fernandez, knowing that Mutai did not understand him pushed Mutai to victory.

A reporter asked Ivan, "Why did you do that?" Ivan replied, "My dream is that one day we can have some sort of community life where we push ourselves and also others to win."

The reporter insisted "But why did you let the Kenyan win?" Ivan replied, "I didn't let him win, he was going to win. The race was his."

The reporter insisted and asked again, "But you could have won!" Ivan looked at him and replied, "But what would be the merit of my victory? What would be the honor of the medal? What would my mother think of it?" Values are transmitted from generation to generation. What values do we teach our children and how much do you inspire others to learn? Most of us take advantage of people's weaknesses instead of helping to strengthen them.

This week has been a hard one for most of us. It has also been a time for many to step up and help those with needs in our community. Some just need a push to make it through the difficulties of the week. Others will need on-going help to make it through what they are facing. That is one main reason the body of Christ exists, to encourage one another. All of us are in this "race" together and we need each other to make it over the hurdles and across the finish line! The above story holds many lessons for us. I think I am most troubled by the comment, "But you could have won!" We all should have our spiritual eyes on the finish line...but it is not an individual race, rather one that we all run together: helping, strengthening, encouraging, and loving each other until we all reach our goal!

"Let us hold unswervingly to the hope we profess, for he who promised is faithful. And let us consider how we can spur one another on toward love and good deeds." Hebrews 10:23-24
