GOOD MORNING

This last couple of days, my family got together for a reunion and historical tour of the land where my ancestor originally settled in Texas. Whenever you get several members of your family together it is interesting to sit back and look at the different things even distant family members have in common. Whether it's how you look or act, there seem to be certain family traits that often help to identify us as part of the group. I can still remember my grandmother's 80th birthday, the last time we got the distant relatives together. My cousin and I played a game where we would guess whether someone was a relative of ours or not just by the way they looked or acted. (ex. The women standing by the buffet telling everyone what they should get, definitely family.)

As Christians we all belong to God's family and we also should have certain traits that show we belong to this group. In the first book of John the author points out this family relationship and the trait that should define us. In 1 John 3:1, it says, "Behold what manner of love the Father has bestowed on us, that we should be called children of God!" We are God's children and part of His family. John then goes on to describe one of the traits that belongs to those who are the children of God, "Beloved, let us love one another, for love is of God; and everyone who loves is born of God and knows God" (1 John 4:7). Because "love is of God," the main trait that should be displayed in his family is that of love. Let us all make sure that we are letting our love for others shine through in the way we act and who we are, so that when people see us they know that we belong to God and are part of his family.

In Him,

Luke Bower
