GOOD MORNING,

A little boy was playing in his sandbox. He was building a sandcastle when he noticed a large rock buried in the sand. The young boy dug around the big rock until he managed to dislodge it from the dirt. With great effort, he pushed and nudged the large rock with his feet until he got it to the edge. However, he could not manage to get it over the little wall around the sandbox. The boy shoved, pushed, and pried, but every time, he failed. On one attempt the boy managed to smash his finger and began to cry. The boy's father, who had been watching the young boy from inside the house, came to his son's aid the moment tears fell. Gently but firmly, he said, "Son, why didn't you use all the strength you had available?" The son replied through his sobs, "But Daddy, I did." "No, son," the father corrected. "You didn't use all the strength you had. You didn't ask me." With that, the father picked up the rock and removed it from the sandbox.

Too many times we struggle with life's challenges on our own and only turn to God when we have been defeated. With all the troubles in the world today, a lot of us are dealing with "rocks" that are too big for us to move. We should all be turning to God and asking him for help. So next time you find yourselves overwhelmed, frustrated, lost, or in trouble make sure you are not trying to handle it on your own, but are instead going to God. "God is our refuge and strength, an ever-present help in trouble" (Psalm 46:1).
