GOOD MORNING...

After Blake Dozier's lesson last Wednesday and a conversation about our upcoming bible class curriculum, I was reminded about a story. A preacher was visiting various classes during the Sunday bible class hour to see how they were doing. He stopped by and visited the class of 5th grade boys. They were talking about things in the O.T. He listened for a while & then asked, "Who knows who knocked down the walls of Jericho?" Two boys answered, "Preacher, we don't know who, but we sure didn't do it." Surprised by their lack of Bible knowledge, he turned to the teacher & asked, "What do you think of that answer?" The teacher replied, "Well, I've known them since they were little, and they've always been honest. If they said they didn't do it, I believe them."

Dismayed, he went out into the hallway and saw one of the congregation's deacons. He told him, "I was just in the 5th grade boys' class and asked who knocked down the walls of Jericho. Two boys held up their hands and said, 'We didn't do it, preacher.' And the teacher told me that if they said they didn't do it, he believed them."

The deacon interrupted him and said, "Preacher, let's not fuss about who did what. We'll just fix the walls and pay for it out of the General Fund."

Don't worry, this is not a story about our congregation. Although the story is funny, it is very sad how many people do not know their Bible. As we talked about Wednesday, David wrote in Psalm 19:7-11:

The law of the Lord is perfect, reviving the soul;
the testimony of the Lord is sure, making wise the simple;
the precepts of the Lord are right, rejoicing the heart;
the commandment of the Lord is pure, enlightening the eyes;
the fear of the Lord is clean, enduring forever;
the rules of the Lord are true, and righteous altogether.
More to be desired are they than gold, even much fine gold;
sweeter also than honey and drippings of the honeycomb.
Moreover, by them is your servant warned;
in keeping them there is great reward.

So let us have the same passion for God's Word. Let's study, memorize and know it.
